

Class Concept

The CAT Scan Technologist is responsible for the performance of Computerized Tomographic (CT) examinations as the primary function with a secondary function of performing diagnostic radiographic exams maintaining compliance with the standard operating procedures for health services delivery.

Recruitment Standards

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

- Ability to ensure the completion of assigned projects/programs according to plans.
- Ability to effectively manage work activities and apply knowledge and expertise to achieve operational goals.
- Ability to analyze medically complicated information and communicate such information to management when required.
- Ability to utilize organizational skills to complete daily work assignments and accomplish establish goals and outcomes.

Minimum Education and Experience

Associate's degree in Radiography or related degree from an appropriately accredited institution and completion of a Computed Tomography (CT) program or an equivalent combination of education and experience.