FOREWARD

The North Carolina Office of State Human Resources, through the authority granted by the Human Resources Commission, maintains classification and pay structures for all positions subject to the provisions of General Statute 126, the State Human Resources System. This statute requires the Commission to establish classification plans to govern position classification and reclassification, and to develop compensation programs which provide minimum, maximum, and intermediate rates of pay.

The Office of State Human Resources currently maintains the following classification and salary range structures:

- A traditional graded structure where classifications are assigned a numerical grade that corresponds to a specific salary range (the majority of classifications are in this structure);
- Specific pay plans developed for occupational groups where a traditional graded structure does not capture operational needs; and
- A banded pay structure used as a framework for exploring the use of career banding in State Government.

The Human Resources Commission is responsible for the approval of additions or revisions to the plans recommended by the Office of State Human Resources. These recommendations may include new classifications, modification of classification concepts, changes in assigned salary ranges, or other necessary actions resulting from classification and/or compensation studies. The Commission considers recommended changes during their bimonthly meetings.

The overall salary schedule is subject to approval by the North Carolina General Assembly including any general or across-the-board (cost-of-living) changes. The total compensation provided by the State as an employer includes base pay and benefits. The major (core) components of the benefit package include health insurance, a retirement program, paid vacation and sick leave, and related employer costs. There are also warranty supplemental benefits made available to employees, such as dental and vision care programs, supplemental disability insurance, and additional retirement/deferred compensation plans; many of these benefits are offered on a pre-tax basis.

Classification Studies

Office of State Human Resources staff conducts classification studies to determine needed changes to the pay plan in association with agency and university human resources specialists. These studies range in scope from focused work unit or program reviews to general statewide occupational reviews. Classification studies are frequently supplemented by tailored compensation studies for the class(es) under review. Recommendations for changes to the pay plan resulting from studies are submitted to the Human Resources Commission for approval and, once approved; administration is generally delegated to the agencies and universities.

Compensation Studies

Office of State Human Resources staff is responsible for conducting labor market surveys and analyses of the information collected. The study process involves determining the specific jobs to be surveyed, the identification of competitors to be surveyed, and the scope of competition (local, regional, national).

The types of compensation studies conducted include:

- Annual general market surveys for benchmark classes which provide information to support OSHR's recommendations to the Governor's Office concerning general or across-the-board changes to the pay plan;
- Surveys of specific jobs that are required by the legislature;
- Surveys of specific jobs and occupations in support of classification studies; and
- Surveys of specific jobs and occupations in response to identified recruitment/retention problems.

Salary Administration

Policies approved by the Human Resources Commission and the practices and procedures adopted by OSHR to implement these policies govern salary administration. These policies cover the hiring of new employees, promotions, demotions, leave without pay, range revisions, and other actions affecting pay. OSHR is responsible for administering these policies and works closely with client agencies and universities on administration of policies relating to position classification changes and interpretation of recruitment standards. The effect that these policies have on State Government operations are continuously monitored and evaluated by OSHR. These policies are published in the State Human Resources Policy Manual and are contained in the on-line version maintained on our website (www.osp.state.nc.us).

INTRODUCTION

The Office of State Human Resources annually publishes the official pay plans for the State as a classification and compensation resource for human resources specialists and managers. This information, used in connection with other resources such as classification specifications, allows users to determine how new and redefined positions may fit within the classification and pay structures based on exact matches or occupational relationships.

The classification and pay structures are not static. The Human Resources Commission, at its bimonthly meetings, routinely approves revisions and modifications necessary to respond to changing market conditions, new program initiatives, or operational needs. Users of the published plan should update the information using post-Commission memoranda. This edition is the official listing of established classifications and salary ranges approved by the Human Resources Commission for use in North Carolina State Government as of July 1, 2012.

The Office of State Human Resources maintains an on-line version of the pay plans on our website (www.osp.state.nc.us). This version is updated after every Commission meeting.

The Plan includes the following reference guides:

- An alphabetic listing of graded, career banded, and t-graded classification titles;
- A listing of classifications by job family and job branch;
- A listing of Career-Banded classifications;
- A listing of Pilot Bands (A – F) and information on the North Carolina Career Banding Initiative (Appendix E);
- A listing of established trainee salary progressions (Appendix A);
- School Educator Schedule (Appendix C); and
- The Medical Salary Schedule (Appendix D).

The alphabetic listing of classifications includes the following information:

- Official classification titles;
- Assigned BEACON codes and PMIS codes used in entering personnel management information transactions;
- Assigned pay structures (salary grade, or pay band); and
- The assigned salary range minimum and maximum amounts.

CAREER-BANDED JOBS

NORTH CAROLINA CAREER-BANDING

For the past few years the State of North Carolina has explored the possibility of new pay and human resource systems to strengthen government services for citizens and create an atmosphere where its employees can have better career opportunities. As systems prove to be useful they will be gradually phased in over the coming years to offer many advantages to managers and employees, and to provide our citizens with better and more efficient services.

The State has tried several types of banding pilot programs, most recently a Career-banding system. Career-Banding has many similarities to the pilots that were tested; the principle difference is in the final appearance of the pay structure. Instead of having defined bands A through F as shown in the following Pilot Bands, the Career-banded Pay Plan has pay Minimums and Maximums for each of the identified Job Families. Within each of the Job Families career-banded classes were developed with Journey Market Rates as well as their unique pay minimums and maximums. Additional market reference rates for each career-banded class have been developed through market study for use by managers to manage their employees' pay.

At present, all new Career-Banding activity has been temporarily suspended.

NORTH CAROLINA PILOT BANDING INITIATIVE

The State of North Carolina has explored the possibility of new pay and human resource systems to strengthen programs to attract, motivate, develop and retain employees. One of the first programs was the broad-banded pay system. The system was first approved by the Human Resources Commission in 1996. Over time new classifications were developed and placed into these broad bands as a pilot. The following represents the broadband system and the classifications that remain in the system. The rates have been updated yearly with Legislative Increases when given.
