

Pacing Through The Patch

Miles for Wellness

Challenge #34

This fun initiative encourages state employees to incorporate movement into their daily lives!

Challenge participants will virtually venture along a trail of 18 popular pumpkin patches across the United States.

Starting Point

COPPAL HOUSE FARM - NEW HAMPSHIRE

Dating back to 1780, Coppal House Farm is one of New Hampshire's oldest working farms. Every October, visitors flock to its famous Moonlight Maze, where flashlights replace daylight as families navigate a giant corn maze beneath the stars—a tradition that's become a New England fall favorite.

435 miles

THE GREAT PUMPKIN FARM - NEW YORK

Western New York takes pumpkins seriously, and nowhere proves it better than The Great Pumpkin Farm. Its annual World Pumpkin Weigh-Off attracts giant gourds weighing more than 2,000 pounds, alongside pumpkin bowling, pie-eating contests, and one of the region's largest autumn festivals.

769 miles

LINVILLA ORCHARDS PUMPKINLAND - PENNSYLVANIA

For more than 300 years, Linvilla Orchards has been welcoming families just outside Philadelphia. During Pumpkinland, thousands of pumpkins transform the farm into a colorful village, complete with whimsical displays, homemade apple cider donuts, and one of the area's most photographed fall destinations.

4

953 miles

COX FARMS - VIRGINIA

What began as a roadside produce stand has grown into Virginia's legendary Fall Festival, covering more than 90 acres. Giant slides, rope swings, foam pits, and live entertainment make this one of the largest seasonal attractions on the East Coast.

5

1,275 miles

HUBB'S FARM - NORTH CAROLINA

Nestled in eastern North Carolina, Hubb's Farm mixes classic harvest traditions with Southern hospitality. Guests can wander through the farm before cooling off with homemade ice cream—a local favorite that's just as popular as the pumpkins themselves.

6

1,570 miles

DENVER DOWNS FARM - SOUTH CAROLINA

Owned by the same family since 1869, Denver Downs has evolved into one of the Southeast's premier fall destinations. More than 35 attractions, including an 8-acre pumpkin patch, giant jumping pillows, and nighttime fireworks, make every visit feel like a festival.

1,643 miles

JAEMOR FARMS - GEORGIA

Georgia's warm climate gives Jaemor Farms one of the longest harvest seasons in the South. After picking a pumpkin, visitors usually head straight for the bakery, where fresh peach cider, fried pies, and homemade treats have become just as famous as the farm itself.

2,141 miles

PUMPKIN HOLLOW - ARKANSAS

Nestled in the Arkansas countryside, Pumpkin Hollow offers a quieter, small-town harvest experience. Wagon rides through the farm, peaceful pumpkin fields, and friendly farm animals make it feel like stepping back to a simpler time.

2,647 miles

PRESTON TRAIL FARMS - TEXAS

Texas is home to one of the country's most famous pumpkin cannons, and Preston Trail Farms proudly delivers the spectacle. Watching pumpkins launch hundreds of feet across an open field has become a signature tradition that visitors look forward to every fall.

2,833 miles

PUMPKINVILLE AT MYRIAD - OKLAHOMA

Unlike most pumpkin patches, Pumpkinville pops up right in the heart of downtown Oklahoma City. Thousands of pumpkins, creative displays, and themed activities transform the botanical gardens into one of Oklahoma's most unique seasonal attractions.

3,280 miles

VALA'S PUMPKIN PATCH - NEBRASKA

Often ranked among the best pumpkin patches in America, Vala's welcomes hundreds of thousands of guests each season. With more than 50 attractions, homemade bakery treats, and acres of pumpkins, it's practically an autumn theme park.

3,664 miles

COUNTRY SUN FARMS - MINNESOTA

This family farm captures everything people love about a Minnesota autumn. Crisp air, colorful maple trees, and scenic river valley views make every pumpkin photo look like it belongs on a postcard.

4,124 miles

PAPA'S PUMPKIN PATCH - NORTH DAKOTA

Papa's Pumpkin Patch has welcomed families for more than 40 years and features dozens of handcrafted attractions built right on the farm. Every visit feels personal, thanks to the creativity and charm that have made it a North Dakota favorite.

4,770 miles

ANDERSON FARMS - COLORADO

Set against the backdrop of the Rocky Mountains, Anderson Farms grows over 70 varieties of pumpkins and features more than 7 miles of corn maze trails. Between the mountain scenery and massive harvest festival, it's one of Colorado's most unforgettable fall experiences.

5,546 miles

SCHNEPF FARMS - ARIZONA

Who says pumpkins only belong in cool weather? Schnepf Farms proves Arizona knows how to celebrate fall too, combining pumpkin picking with its famous bakery, U-pick orchards, and seasonal festivals in the middle of the Sonoran Desert.

6,396 miles

BISHOP'S PUMPKIN FARM - CALIFORNIA

One of the largest pumpkin farms in the country, Bishop's welcomes visitors with its historic steam train, sunflower fields, and thousands of pumpkins spread across the property. Families have been making memories here for over 50 years.

6,939 miles

BAUMAN'S HARVEST FESTIVAL - OREGON

Pumpkins are only the beginning at Bauman's. Fresh marionberry desserts, locally crafted cider, flower fields, and Oregon-grown produce make this harvest festival a true celebration of the Pacific Northwest.

7,184 miles

STOCKER FARMS - WASHINGTON

The journey ends beneath views of the Cascade Mountains at Stocker Farms, where pumpkin fields and beautiful mountain scenery create the perfect grand finale. After traveling nearly 10,000 miles, there's no better place to celebrate finishing the adventure.
